DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The following phrases in the claims are vague, indefinite, and/or awkwardly and confusingly worded:

I. "a shaft with a first end...wrench head" (claim 1, lines 1-2). It is not clear if the shaft is part of wrench head member (20) or socket extension (50).

II. "an extension having an extension collar" (claim 1, line 7). Is the extension on the shaft or extension collar?

III. "whereby...handle" (claim 1, line 18). The phrase is confusingly worded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Art Unit: 3723

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 2, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by patent no. 5,943,924 to Jarvis.

Jarvis discloses a wrench head member (303), a socket shaft extension (401, see figure 51 attached to action for a more detailed description) having a drive section and shaft section, an extension collar (see figure 51 attached to action for a more detailed description) having a drive hollow portion and a shaft hollow portion, a second extension collar (see figure 51 attached to action for a more detailed description), a locking member (411) and an opening (not numbered but see figure 51).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3723

Claims 1, 3, 4, 11, 12, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jarvis in view of Masterson et al.

Jarvis discloses as discussed above.

Jarvis does not disclose the square and circular cross sections of the drive and shaft hollow portions.

Masterson discloses square and circular cross sections (12, 16, and 20) in an alignment of attachments mounted on a power tool for the purpose of providing a more secure connection.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Jarvis to include the square and circular cross sections as taught by Masterson for the purpose of providing a more secure connection.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 5-8 and 14-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3723

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
